PREFACE

The medical facilities report serves as an historical account of medical facility development in South Dakota. It is also a status report of South Dakota medical facility services and utilization.

The information used to develop the community hospitals and the non-community hospitals portion of the medical facilities report was obtained by the South Dakota Department of Health, Division of Administration, Office of Data, Statistics and Vital Records, from the American Hospital Association Annual Survey with an addendum to obtain patient origin data.

The information used to develop the long-term care portion of the medical facilities report was obtained through a cooperative effort by the Office of Data, Statistics and Vital Records and the Office of Health Care Facility Licensure and Certification. To decrease the amount of reporting requested from long-term care facilities, a survey was attached to the licensure application for long-term care facilities.

In 2000, the American Hospital Association Annual Survey was introduced online. This enabled the hospitals to enter data in a secure environment while making it easier and more efficient to respond. The online survey also provides historical reference data as well as instant data verification as information is entered. Hospitals that did not have internet access were still able to submit their survey on paper.

The Office of Data, Statistics, and Vital Records edited and compiled the data for publication.

COMMUNITY HOSPITALS

INTRODUCTION

This section contains a descriptive summary of selected statistics for the 51 community hospitals in South Dakota. Past trends and a description of the existing state of community hospitals are discussed within sections pertaining to community hospital resources, utilization, and finances. This descriptive information concerns primarily inpatient utilization of facilities. The 2002 data showed that:

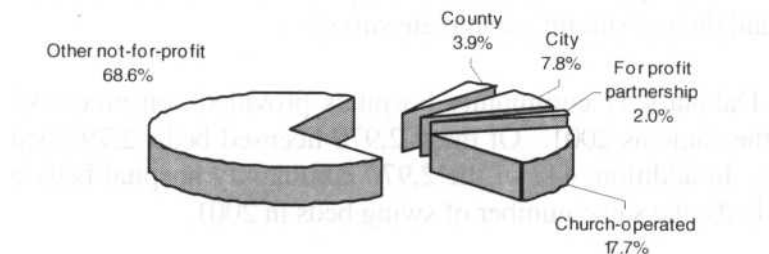

- South Dakota had 51 community hospitals. All 51 community hospitals responded to the American Hospital Association Annual Survey during 2002. This is one more hospital than reported in 2001. However, one hospital (Milbank Area Hospital/Avera Health) only completed section F; therefore sections A-E of their 2001 survey were included in this report for comparison purposes. There were also seven hospitals (Avera St. Luke's, Aberdeen; Avera McKennan Hospital, Sioux Falls; Avera Wescota Memorial Medical Center, Wessington Springs; Avera Queen of Peace, Mitchell; Dells Area Health Center/Avera Health, Dell Rapids; Lookout Memorial Hospital, Spearfish; Sturgis Community Health Care Center, Sturgis) that did not submit 12 months of data; therefore data from their 2001 survey was used for comparison purposes. The Heart Hospital of South Dakota, Sioux Falls opened in 2001 and did not submit a complete survey.
- South Dakota's 51 community hospitals provided consumers with 2,970 licensed beds, the same as 2001. Of these 2,970 licensed beds, 2,797 beds were set up and staffed. In addition, 447 of the 2,970 community hospital beds were designated as swing beds, the same number of swing beds in 2001.
- South Dakota's community hospitals provided consumers with 3.9 community hospital beds per 1,000 population. South Dakota's community hospital bed/1,000 rate has declined steadily from the 1993 figure of 4.8.
- The average size of South Dakota's community hospitals was 58.2 beds, the same as 2001 average size of beds. Most were relatively small with a median hospital size of 25.0 beds. The largest South Dakota community hospital had 537 beds and the smallest hospital had 4 beds.
- Utilization numbers indicate an improvement in 2002. Discharges (including swing bed discharges) totaled 101,875, an increase of 725 from 2001. Since 1993, total discharges have fluctuated annually.
- Forty-seven of the 51 community hospitals were licensed for swing beds, which generated 47,633 swing bed inpatient days, compared to 48,020 in 2001.
- Community hospitals reported expenses of $1.24 billion and revenues of $1.32 billion during the 2002 reporting period, for increases of 10.7 and 10 percent over 2001, respectively.

RESOURCES

Type of Control

The results of the American Hospital Association (AHA) Annual Survey indicated that five different types of organizations were responsible for establishing policy for the overall operation of South Dakota's community hospitals. In 2002, county governments controlled two community hospitals and city governments controlled four community hospitals for a total of 11.7 percent. One community hospital was controlled by an investor-owned, for profit organization or 2.0 percent. Of the remaining 86.3 percent of hospitals, church-operated, not-for-profit organizations controlled 9 community hospitals or 68.6 percent and other not-for-profit organizations controlled 35 community hospitals or 17.7 percent. Figure 1, below, depicts the organizational structure of community hospitals during the 2002 reporting period.

Facilities and Beds

The number of community hospitals, 51, stayed the same from 2001 to 2002. The number of community hospitals has remained consistently between 49 and 51 during the last decade. In 2002, the average size of community hospitals was 58.2 beds. The median hospital size was 25 beds, the same as 2001. South Dakota's smallest hospital had only 4 beds, while the largest hospital had 537 beds. The wide range in bed size can be attributed to the way the population is dispersed throughout the state. The total number of licensed beds in 2002 was 2,970, the same as 2001. However, the total number of licensed beds decreased by 11 percent since 1993. Table 1, page 5, shows the number of community hospitals and licensed beds within those hospitals, broken down by bed size category.

Beds Per 1,000 Population

One of the best measures of availability of hospital beds is the number of community hospital beds per 1,000 population. This rate has fluctuated over the past 30 years, rising from 4.4 beds per 1,000 population in 1950 to 5.6 beds in 1970. In the early 1970s, the number of beds dropped slightly until 1977 when it reached 5.1 beds per 1,000 population. The drop in bed supply in the mid-seventies may be attributed to a number of hospital closures due to population patterns. Recent declines in bed supply are due to decreased utilization of inpatient beds as a result of the rise in outpatient visits. The 2002 statewide figure is 3.9 beds per 1,000 population, using the 2000 U.S. census population number of 754,844 and the 2002 figure of 2,970 licensed hospital beds. Table 2 on page 6 provides the number of beds per 1,000 population from 1993 to 2002. The beds per 1,000 population has declined consistently from 4.8 beds per 1,000 population in 1993 to 3.9 beds per 1,000 population in 2002.

Services

In 1994, AHA began to monitor which services are provided directly by the community hospitals or provided by a health system, network or through a contractual agreement with another provider outside the network or system. In 1994, health systems provided 3.3 percent of services, networks provided 2.0 percent of services and providers outside the network or system provided 11.8 percent of the services through contractual agreement. In 2002, health systems provided 12.9 percent of the services, networks provided 0.8 percent of services and providers outside the network or system provided 10 percent of the services through contractual agreement. These numbers show an increase in health systems and contractual services and a decrease in networks. Table 3, pages 7-8, lists the types of services provided by community hospitals and the number of community hospitals in South Dakota that maintained those services within their facility or had an arrangement with some other facility to provide the service during 2002. Eight new facility and service categories were added to the 2002 survey.

These are:

- Airborne infection isolation room
- Bariatric/weight control services
- Chaplaincy/pastoral care services
- Linguistic/translation services
- Neurological services
- Orthopedic services
- Swing bed services
- Wound management services

UTILIZATION

General Trends

The addition of two new hospitals in 2001 boosted the utilization numbers. Even with this addition utilization numbers showed mixed results. Table 4, below, portrays selected utilization data for South Dakota community hospitals. It is important to note that the data below includes swing bed data, showing that swing bed utilization has not always helped inpatient procedures keep pace with the increase in outpatient procedures. In 2002, there were 2,970 community hospital beds, 368 beds or 11 percent fewer than the 1993 total of 3,338 beds. Discharges increased from 94,766 in 1993 to 101,875 in 2002, an increase of 7,109 discharges or 7.5 percent. Additionally, there were 3,199 more discharges in 2002 than in 2001. This increase is due largely to the submission of a complete survey from the Heart Hospital of South Dakota.

The number of inpatient days has fallen from 540,563 in 1993 to 486,810 in 2002, a decrease of 53,753 inpatient days or 9.9 percent. Inpatient days decreased 0.9 percent from 2001, which had seen an increase of 2.4 percent from 2000. The average length of stay declined from 5.70 days in 1993 to 4.78 days in 2002. The overall trend of decline in the utilization numbers of community hospitals is indicative of the activity in acute care hospitals around the United States. Cost containment efforts by government, health care coverage companies, and hospitals have encouraged the utilization of outpatient procedures more frequently and decreased the period of time people stay in the hospital for any given procedure.

RECENT TRENDS

Community hospital trends by bed size category from 1993 to 2002 are discussed below. The Department of Health monitors the following utilization trends for community hospitals: inpatient days, percent occupancy, discharges, average lengths of stay and Medicare and Medicaid inpatient days.

Inpatient Days (Excludes swing bed inpatient days)

Table 5, below, indicates the trend in inpatient days for the different sizes of community hospitals between 1993 and 2002 when swing bed days are excluded. In 2002, South Dakota community hospitals generated 439,177 acute care inpatient days, down 49,666 days or 10.2 percent from 1993. Although there has been a general decline of inpatient days generated in South Dakota community hospitals during the past 10 years, there was a slight increase of 2.3 percent from 2000 to 2001 but then a decrease of 10.2 percent from 2001 to 2002.

Percent Occupancy (Excludes swing bed data)

Table 6, page 11, shows the occupancy rate for the different sizes of community hospitals between 1993 and 2002. The occupancy rate of a hospital shows the percentage of total beds in a hospital which are occupied, averaged over a one-year time period. An occupancy rate is a standard indicator of the extent to which a facility's capacity is being utilized. Over the last 10 years, the rate dropped steadily until it reached a low of 37.4 in 1997, and has shown increases the last four years. However in 2002 the rate dropped slightly from 40.9 percent in 2001 to 40.5 percent in 2002.

In addition, occupancy rates are directly correlated with the number of licensed beds in a facility. Hospitals with more than 200 beds consistently have the highest occupancy rates in almost every year analyzed, while hospitals with less than 24 beds have the lowest occupancy rates of all South Dakota community hospitals.

Discharges (Excludes swing bed data)

Over the past 10 years, annual discharge totals have fluctuated. As Figure 2 shows, the number reached its high in 2002 with 97,007, and the low was 88,811 in 1997. Table 7, page 12, shows the number of discharges from the different sizes of community hospitals between 1993 and 2002. The 2002 discharge rate per 1,000 South Dakota population was 128.5, up from the 2001 rate of 123.7 per 1,000 population. If swing bed discharges were included, the discharge rates per 1,000 population would be 130.7 and 135, respectively, for 2001 and 2002.

Average Length of Stay (Excludes swing bed data)

Table 8, below, indicates the trend in the average length of stay in the different sizes of community hospitals between 1993 and 2002. The length of stay has varied only slightly over the last 10 years with a peak of 5.3 days in 1993 and a low of 4.5 in 2002. As Table 8 indicates, the average length of stay varies significantly by bed size category. In 2002, the average length of stay in hospitals with more than 200 beds was 2.3 days longer than the average length of stay in the hospitals with less than 24 beds.

Medicare Inpatient Days (Includes swing bed data)

Table 9, below, shows the number of Medicare inpatient days in the different sizes of community hospitals between 1993 and 2002. Swing bed Medicare days are included in the count for all years. In 2002, South Dakota community hospitals had 256,134 Medicare inpatient days. This was a 4 percent increase from 2001. In 2002, Medicare inpatient days made up 52.4 percent of all community hospital inpatient days, compared to 58 percent in 1993.

Medicaid Inpatient Days (Includes swing bed data)

Table 10, below, shows the number of Medicaid inpatient days by bed size group in community hospitals between 1993 and 2002. Medicaid inpatient days totaled 57,874 days during 2002, or 11.9 percent of all inpatient days, an increase of 2 percent since 1993. Medicaid inpatient days increased 7.2 percent from 2001 to 2002.

SURGICAL OPERATIONS

Table 11, below, shows the number of surgical procedures, both inpatient and outpatient, for 1998 to 2002. Each patient undergoing surgery is counted as one surgical operation regardless of the number of surgical procedures that are performed while the patient is in the operating or procedure room. Outpatient surgical operations are those surgeries performed on patients who do not remain in the hospital overnight. The number of outpatient surgeries has increased from 2001 by 471 procedures. The number of inpatient procedures has increased by 4,978 procedures, or 15.5 percent, from 2001. Overall surgical procedures have increased from 1998 by 5,249 procedures or 6.9 percent.

OUTPATIENT VISITS

Table 12, page 15 provides the number of outpatient visits to community hospitals from 1998 to 2002. An outpatient visit is a visit to each emergency or non-emergency outpatient service area by a person who is not lodged in the hospital overnight while receiving medical, dental, or other health-related services. The count includes each appearance of a patient in each emergency or non-emergency outpatient service area. Emergency visits are defined as the total number of patients seen in an emergency unit. The number of 'Other Visits' reflects the total number of scheduled or unscheduled visits to outpatient service areas other than the emergency room. The numbers below include physician referrals and outpatient surgeries but do not include occasions of service.

Outpatient visits in South Dakota community hospitals have increased significantly over the past five years. In 2002, outpatient visits numbered 1,860,258, a 24.6 percent increase from 1998.

SWING BEDS

In 2002, 47 hospitals had swing beds. Table 13, below, provides swing bed utilization information from 1993 to 2002. The development and use of swing beds has increased by 24 licensed beds or 5.7 percent in the last 10 years. Although the number of swing beds has increased since 1993, the number of inpatient days has declined steadily from 60,425 inpatient days in 1993 to 47,633 a decrease of 12,792 days or 21.2 percent. This trend can be explained by a decline in the length of stay by more than 10 days since 1993 and by a decline in the average daily census by 35 persons per day since a 10 year high in 1993.

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

The following section examines financial characteristics and trends for community hospitals in South Dakota.

Expenses and Revenues

Figure 3, below, compares community hospital expenses with revenues from 1993 to 2002 by showing the change in net income. Net income is defined as excess revenue over expenditures. Total revenues, defined as total net revenue from services to patients (inpatient and outpatient) plus total other operating and non-operating revenue, amounted to $1,321,925,237 during 2002 while total expenses, defined as total operating expenses plus non-operating losses, were $1,238,145,361 for the same time period.

Table 14, page 17, shows total community hospital expenses by selected categories from 1993 to 2002. Total expenses have increased substantially during this period, from $652,570,000 in 1993 to $1,238,145,361 in 2002, an increase of 89.7 percent. Payroll expenses accounted for 43.8 percent of all expenses in 2002, which is consistent with past trends.

NON-COMMUNITY HOSPITALS

INTRODUCTION

In addition to the 51 community hospitals in South Dakota, there were 18 non-community hospitals in 2002. Each hospital provided varying degrees of emergency, acute, intensive, skilled nursing or specialty care. All non-community hospitals have the capability of providing acute care, which differentiates them from nursing facilities, which do not have that capability.

RESOURCES

Facilities

Hospitals are categorized as non-community hospitals because of access requirements or the specialized nature of the care they provide. In 2002, South Dakota's 18 non-community hospitals were comprised of two Veteran's Administration hospitals, five Indian Health Services hospitals, and 11 specialized hospitals. Of these hospitals, the only hospitals licensed by the state are the 11 specialized hospitals.

AUTHOR'S NOTE: The number of non-community hospitals that submit their AHA Survey in any given year fluctuates greatly, making it difficult to track the trends in data related to non-community hospitals. Therefore, the data for non-reporting, non-community hospitals was extrapolated in 1998, 1999, 2000, 2001, and 2002 to allow the author and users to compare the trends for non-community hospitals resources and utilization statistics. The report notes the instances where the data is extrapolated by bolding the data and shading the area around it. In addition, the author has added a note below the table to indicate further that the data has been extrapolated.

Beds

Table 16, below, displays the number of beds per facility for years 1998 to 2002. From 2001 to 2002, the total non-community hospital beds in South Dakota increased by 23 beds or 3.0 percent. Page 23, Table 17 compares the number of beds in South Dakota non-community hospitals and community hospitals. During the past five years, the percent of hospital beds that are housed in non-community hospitals ranged from 22 percent to 30 percent of South Dakota's total hospital beds, with the percentage remaining the same for the past five years.

General Trends

Table 18, below, tracks selected utilization statistics for the non-community hospitals from 1998 to 2002. Utilization showed an increase in beds set up and staffed and a large decrease in discharges and inpatient days for 2002.

LONG TERM CARE FACILITIES

HISTORY

Earliest records, dating back to 1949, indicate that 59 facilities were classified as nursing homes. By 1953, the number of nursing homes and homes for the aged had increased to 100. Two classifications of facilities remained until 1965 when four categories of care were used (intensive care, nursing care, intermediate care and supervised living). In 1974, the classifications of skilled nursing, intermediate nursing and supervised personal care were first used.

In 1986, Governor William J. Janklow established the South Dakota Task Force on Long Term Care, through Executive Order 86-05. The basis for appointing the task force was the perception that the existing system was not adequately addressing the long-term care needs of the elderly in a fiscally responsible manner. The task force was charged with identifying the most critical problems in the long term care delivery system and providing recommendations to the Governor. As a result, the task force developed a goal for the state for delivery of long term care services which would address the actual needs of the elderly, and promote their health, independence and functional ability. Ten recommendations were presented to the Governor for consideration ranging from a pre-admission assessment pilot and enhanced geriatric education and training, to a modification of the certificate of need program.

From 1986 to 1988, there were significant changes in the delivery of long term care services in South Dakota. These changes resulted from the 1986 task force and Governor George S. Mickelson's 1988 elderly initiative. There were six areas of significant change in Governor George S. Mickelson's plan including the repeal of the certificate of need in 1988 and the introduction of a three year moratorium on long term care bed growth.

Since 1988, the moratorium has been extended four times - in 1991, 1993, 1995 and 2000. As a result of the moratorium and the other elder initiatives identified from the 1986 task force and Governor Mickleson's plan, South Dakota was able to develop a system of long term care that offers a full range of services, both in-home and community-based, as well as institutional care.

The 1991 South Dakota legislature changed the term "supervised personal care facility" to "assisted living center." Also in 1991, the moratorium on assisted living center beds, formerly known as supervised living, was lifted and a total of 138 assisted living beds were converted to skilled nursing beds.

In 1994, South Dakota Codified Law 34-12 and Administrative Rules of South Dakota 44:04 still provided for the licensing of nursing homes as both skilled nursing facilities and intermediate care facilities, however, in 1995, South Dakota Codified law and rules were updated so they no longer distinguish between skilled and intermediate nursing facilities. This bill simply amended § 34-12-1.1 to change the term "nursing home" to "nursing facility." This change made this chapter consistent with federal government and

LONG TERM CARE FACILITIES

Department of Social Services terminology relating to nursing facilities. It also eliminated the reference to intermediate care facilities since this classification of nursing facility was no longer in use.

Between 1993 and 2002, the state has seen rapid growth in alternative services for the elderly. Between 1993 and 2002, licensed assisted living beds increased by 672 percent from 401 to 3,094 beds.

NURSING FACILITIES

INTRODUCTION

- During the 2002 reporting period, all 114 of the nursing facilities responded to the Nursing Facility Survey. However, one facility did not complete the whole survey. (See below.)
- On December 31, 2002, South Dakota had 114 nursing facilities that offered 7,424 licensed nursing care beds. This is equivalent to 68.7 beds per 1,000 elderly persons aged 65 years or older.
- During the 2002 reporting period, the 114 nursing facilities provided 2.5 million resident days. Of the resident days, 38,984 resident days were assisted living days in a licensed nursing facility bed.
- In 2002, nursing facilities maintained an average daily census of 6,885 residents per day, and an occupancy rate of 92.2 percent.
- In 2002, nursing facilities had 1.5 million Medicaid inpatient days, which is 59.3 percent of the resident days provided by nursing facilities.

NOTES

- The White River Health Care Center of White River did not submit a completed 1993 Long Term Care Survey. In 1993, White River had 52 licensed skilled care beds.
- The Terrace Manor of Dell Rapids did not submit a completed 2000 Long Term Care Survey. In 2000, Terrace Manor had 76 licensed skilled care beds.
- Oahe Manor, Gettysburg, Kodak Nursing Home, Kadoka, and Prairie View Care, Woonsocket, submitted a partial survey for 2001. All three facilities failed to fill out the resident days section.
- Castle Manor, Hot Springs, submitted a partial survey for 2002. They failed to fill out the resident days section. This will be noted on the tables that are affected by this omission.

AUTHOR'S NOTE: The author feels that it is particularly important to be able to compare the data from year to year. Therefore, when a facility does not submit a completed survey, the facility is still included in the report when the author is talking about the number of beds and facilities. To include them in the report, past numbers or current licensing numbers are used for extrapolation. When the author extrapolates the reader will know because the number is bolded, the area is shaded, and it is noted below the table. In addition, if the number impacts other numbers throughout the report, those numbers are also shaded to show that those numbers are based on extrapolated numbers.

RESOURCES

Facilities and Beds

During the 2002 reporting period, 114 facilities provided nursing care in South Dakota. The number of facilities stayed the same in 2002 as in 2001. The 114 facilities maintained 7,424 licensed nursing care beds (a ten year low), for a 10 percent decrease over the last 10 years. Table 23, below, provides the number of nursing facilities and the number of licensed beds during the years 1993 to 2002. In 1995, South Dakota Codified Law and administrative rules eliminated the term "intermediate care," which explains the increase in skilled care facilities and beds after 1994.

Beds Per 1,000 Elderly Population

Table 24, page 35, provides the number of nursing care beds per 1,000 population aged 65 and older from 1993 to 2002. In 2002, the number of nursing care beds per 1,000 population aged 65 and older was 68.7, the new 10-year low. This rate is based on the 2000 census and has decreased by 2.1 beds per 1,000 population aged 65 and older since 2001.

Figure 4, below, shows the change in the number of nursing care beds per 1,000 population in the last 10 years. The 2000 and 2001 rates appear to be considerably lower than 1999, however it is only a decrease of 2.6 beds and 3.3 beds, respectively, per 1,000 persons age 65 or older due to the switch to using 2000 Census data for rates. Since 2000 there has been a gradual decrease in the number of nursing care beds per 1,000 population.

Resident Days

Table 25, below, presents inpatient days for nursing facilities from 1993 to 2002. Of the 2,513,099 resident days in 2002, 38,984 were for assisted living residents in a licensed nursing facility bed, a decrease of 1,584 from 2001.

General Trends

Table 26, below, shows utilization trends for nursing facilities from 1993-2002. The table details resident days, average daily census, average length of stay and percent occupancy.

Resident Days: The 2002 surveys showed a decline in the number of resident days from 2001 by 21,566 resident days, or less than 1 percent. The 10-year peak for resident days during the past decade was in 1995.

Average Daily Census: The 2002 surveys reported the lowest average daily census in the past 10 years. At any given time during 2002, there were about 6,885 persons receiving care in a nursing facility. The average daily census has decreased by 59 individuals, or less than 1 percent, since 2001.

Average Length of Stay: The average length of stay had been declining steadily since 1993. However, in 2002 there was a slight increase. The decrease from 1993 to 2002 was 206 days, or 36 percent.

Percent Occupancy: The reported occupancy rate increased from 90.3 percent in 2001 to 92.2 percent in 2002. Since 1995 the occupancy rate had been showing a steady decline. However in 2001 the occupancy rate showed a slight increase and in 2002 it increased by 2.1 percent over 2001.

- In 2002, reporting assisted living centers had 131,906 Medicaid resident days, which represents 17 percent of the total resident days provided by assisted living centers.

AUTHOR'S NOTE: The author feels that it is particularly important to be able to compare the data from year to year. Therefore, when an assisted living facility does not submit a completed survey, the facility is still included in the report when the author is talking about the number of beds and facilities. To include them in the report, current licensing numbers are used for extrapolation. When the author extrapolates the reader will know because the number is bolded, the area is shaded, and it is noted below the table. In addition, if the number impacts other numbers throughout the report, those numbers are also shaded to show that those numbers are based on extrapolated numbers.

Resident Days: Resident days in assisted living centers have fluctuated during the past 10 years. Responding centers reported a 10-year high of 776,349 resident days during 2002. Because there were non-reporting facilities, the total resident days and all the other utilization totals were under reported.

Average Daily Census: Responding centers reported that at any given time during 2002 there were about 2,139 people receiving assisted living care. Table 32, page 48, indicates that this number is up 200 residents per day, or 10.3 percent, from 2001 and 1,761 residents per day or 465.9 percent since 1993.

Percent Occupancy: Responding centers report that the occupancy rate for 2002 was 71.2 percent. The occupancy rate increased 4 percentage points from 2001. Because the data were previously combined with nursing data, trend data for the occupancy rate does not exist for 1993 and 1994.

APPENDIX A

DEFINITIONS

Adjusted Expenses Per Inpatient Day: Expenses incurred for inpatient care only, and derived by dividing total expenses by inpatient day equivalents.

Alcoholism/Drug Abuse or Dependency Care: Provides diagnosis and therapeutic services to patients with alcoholism or other drug dependencies. Includes care for inpatient/residential treatment for patients whose course of treatment involves more intensive care than provided in an outpatient setting or where patient requires supervised withdrawal.

Assisted Living Center: Any establishment which is maintained and operated to provide personal care and service for five or more persons, whether for consideration or not, who by reason of age or infirmity, are dependent upon the services of others to carry out normal daily living activities, to regulate their living habits, or to protect them from environmental and other hazards. This care and service shall be provided by competent and qualified individuals who shall maintain a minimum of .80 hours of resident care in every 24 hour period for each in-resident.

Average Daily Census (ADC): The average number of inpatients in a facility on any given day, calculated by dividing the number of inpatient days per year by 365.

Average Length of Stay: The average daily census times 365 (or patient days) divided by admissions (discharges) in one year.

Bed: For reporting purposes, the term "bed" shall refer to the number of beds licensed by the state of South Dakota. In actuality, a facility may have a varying complement of beds depending upon facility design, beds set up and staffed, and licensed beds.

Beds Set Up and Staffed: The number of beds at the end of the reporting period that are staffed and ready for use.

Bed-Days Per Year: The total number of beds usually licensed, times 365. This is a measure of capacity.

Burn Care: Provides care to severely burned patients. Severely burned patients are those with any of the following: 1) second-degree burns of more than 25% total body surface area for adults or 20% total body surface area for children; 2) third-degree burns of more than 10% total body surface area; 3) any severe burns of the hands, face, eyes, ears, or feet; or 4) all inhalation injuries, electrical burns, complicated burn injuries involving fractures and other major traumas.

Cardiac Intensive Care: Provides patient care of a more specialized nature than the usual medical and surgical care, on the basis of physicians' orders and approved nursing care plans. The unit is staffed with specially trained nursing personnel and contains monitoring and specialized support or treatment equipment for patients who, because of heart seizure, open-heart surgery, or other life-threatening conditions, require intensified, comprehensive observation and care. May include myocardial infarction, pulmonary care, and heart transplant units.

Community Hospital: A non-federal, short-term general hospital, excluding a hospital unit of an institution, whose facilities and services are available to the general public.

Hospice: Provides palliative care, chiefly medical relief of pain, and supportive services for terminally ill patients and their families.

Hospital: An establishment with an organized medical staff with permanent facilities that include inpatient beds and is primarily engaged in providing, by or under the supervision of physicians, to inpatients any of the following services: diagnostic or therapeutic services for medical diagnosis, treatment, or care of injured, disabled or sick persons; obstetrical services including the care of the newborn; rehabilitation services for the rehabilitation of injured, disabled or sick persons.

Hospital Bed Size: Grouping of hospitals according to the number of licensed beds in each facility. Community hospitals are grouped according to the following bed sizes: 0-24, 25-49, 50-99, 100-199, and 200+. This is done for analysis purposes and is consistent with the breakdowns by size as used by American Hospital Association publications.

Intermediate Care: Provides health-related services, nursing care and social services, to residents with a variety of physical conditions or functional disabilities. These residents do not require the care provided by a hospital or skilled nursing facility, but do need supervision and supportive services. The term intermediate care was removed from South Dakota Codified Law and Administrative Rule in 1995.

Intermediate Care Facility: An establishment which is maintained and operated for the expressed or implied purposes of providing care for a person or persons, whether for consideration or not, who do not require the degree of care and treatment which a hospital or skilled nursing facility is designed to provide but who, because of their mental or physical condition, require medical care and health services which can be made available to them only through institutional facilities. The term intermediate care facility was removed from South Dakota Codified Law and Administrative Rule in 1995.

Nursing Facility: Facilities which provide skilled nursing care.

Assisted Living Center: Centers which provide assisted living care.

Medical/Surgical, Acute: Provides acute care to patients in medical and surgical units on the basis of physicians' orders and approved nursing care plans.

Medical/Surgical Intensive Care: Provides patient care of a more intensive nature than the usual medical and surgical care, on the basis of physicians' orders and approved nursing care plans. These units are staffed with specially trained nursing personnel and contain monitoring and specialized support equipment for patients who, because of shock, trauma, or other life-threatening conditions, require intensified, comprehensive observation and care. Includes mixed intensive care units.

APPENDIX A - DEFINITIONS

Neonatal Intensive Care: A unit that must be separate from the newborn nursery providing intensive care to all sick infants including those with the very lowest birth weights (less than 1500 grams). NICK has potential for providing mechanical ventilation, neonatal surgery and special care for the sickest infants born in the hospital or transferred from another institution. A full-time neonatologist serves as director of the NICK.

Neonatal Intermediate Care: A unit that must be separate from the normal newborn nursery and that provides intermediate and/or recovery care and some specialized services, including immediate resuscitation, intravenous therapy, and capacity for prolonged oxygen therapy and monitoring.

Non-community Hospital: Includes federal hospitals, long-term hospitals, specialty hospitals, hospital unit of institutions, psychiatric hospitals, hospitals for tuberculosis and other respiratory diseases, chronic disease hospitals, institutions for the mentally retarded, and alcoholism and chemical dependency hospitals.

Nursing Care Facility: Facilities which provide either skilled or intermediate nursing care. Nursing beds include those in which either skilled or intermediate care is provided.

Obstetric Care Unit: Includes LDRP beds along with designated obstetrical beds. Level I unit provides services for uncomplicated maternity and newborn cases. Level 2 unit provides services for uncomplicated cases, the majority of complicated problems, and special neonatal services. Level 3 unit provides services for all serious illnesses and abnormalities and is supervised by a full time maternal/fetal specialist.

Other Special Care: Provides care to patients requiring care more intensive than that provided in the acute area, yet not sufficiently intensive to require admission to an intensive care unit. Patients admitted to this area are usually transferred here from an intensive care unit once their condition has improved. These units are sometimes referred to as definitive observation, step-down, or progressive care units.

Pediatric Intensive Care: Provides care to pediatric patients that is of a more intensive nature than that usually provided to pediatric patients. The unit is staffed with specially trained personnel and contains monitoring and specialized support equipment for treatment of patients who, because of shock, trauma, or other life-threatening conditions, require intensified, comprehensive observation and care.

Percent Occupancy: Average daily census divided by the number of beds. Also, the number of inpatient days per year divided by bed-days per year.

Psychiatric Care: Provides acute or long term care to emotionally disturbed patients, including patients admitted for diagnosis and those admitted for treatment of psychiatric problems, on the basis of physicians' orders and approved nursing care plans. Long term care may include intensive supervision to the chronically mentally ill, mentally disordered, or other mentally incompetent persons.

Rehabilitation: Provides care encompassing a comprehensive array of restoration services for the disabled and all support services necessary to help patients attain their maximum functional capacity.

Retirement Housing: The provision of residential services for those who do not require daily medical or nursing services, but may require some assistance in the activities of daily living. Includes sheltered care facilities for developmentally disabled or long term psychiatric patients as well as elderly housing.

Short-term and Long-term: Hospitals are classified either short-term or long-term according to the average length of stay. A short-term hospital is one in which the average length of stay is less than 30 days. A long-term hospital is one in which the average length of stay is 30 days or more.

Skilled Nursing Care: Provides non-acute medical and nursing care services, therapy and social services under the supervision of a licensed registered nurse on a 24-hour basis.

Skilled Nursing Facility: An establishment which is maintained and operated for the express or implied purpose of providing care for a person or persons, whether for consideration or not, who are not acutely ill but do require nursing care and related medical services of such complexity as to require professional nursing care under the direction of a physician on a 24-hour per day basis.

Swing Beds: Community hospital beds which are licensed for acute care but are also approved by the South Dakota Department of Health for the provision of short-term nursing care. The beds should meet the following conditions under section 1883,b 1 of the Social Security Act: 1) the hospital must be located in a rural area, 2) the hospital must have fewer than 100 acute care beds.
